

Turning Us Away from the Truth

“And they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and shall be turned unto fables [myths]” (2Ti 4:4). Protestant Trinitarianism (PT) is a false religion devised to turn people away from the truth by turning them to myths. It reinforces into people a convincing system of myths so that if the truth ever comes to their hearing, they’ll dismiss it outright as untenable and turn their ears from it. And they’re kept unquestionably loyal to the myths by the dreadful possibility of blaspheming against the Spirit and perishing. Though most think it’s safest to just stay put in their mainline “Christian” church, this might be riskier than they think.

PT accomplishes its agenda by concealing the truth communicated in certain passages of Scripture, then teaching myths from those same passages as the truth. The truth Jesus Christ taught about Himself as our Advocate at the right hand of God has been obscured in John chapters 14-16 through the myth that He was teaching about an entirely different person. This supposed other person is the myth of the third person of a Triune God.

Habakkuk’s famous statement “but the just shall live by his faith [emuwnah]” (Hab 2:4), conveys the message of eternal life by faithfulness to God, “will live because of his faithfulness” (NET), “will live by his faithfulness” (NIV). The Hebrew emuwnah means “faithfulness.” However, this message has been altered to the myth of living daily by faith or belief, “The just shall live by faith [pistis]” (Rom 1:17; Gal 3:11; Heb 10:38). In almost 250 occurrences throughout the New Testament, the noun pistis is rendered “faith” instead of “faithfulness” and in its verb form pisteuo as “believe” rather than “trust.” The Trinitarian message of salvation has become the myth of simply believing some facts are true.

The intended message in the latter half of Romans chapter 5 is that because of Adam’s sin physical “death passed upon all men” (v. 12), “till thou return unto the ground; for out of it wast thou taken: for dust thou art, and unto dust shalt thou return” (Gen 3:19), but all can be resurrected from the dead “unto eternal life by Jesus Christ our Lord” (v. 21). However, this passage has been corrupted into the myth that all are born spiritually dead because of Adam’s sin but can be born again internally to spiritual life through Jesus Christ.

The popular statement, “Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new” (2Co 5:17), is simply about the renewed creation in the end, “And I saw a new heaven and a new earth ... there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away. And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new” (Rev 21:1, 4-5). The “old things” that will be passed away are death, sorrow, crying, and pain. But “he is” was added to teach the myth that people become some kind of new creatures internally by a faith confession. It’s just another myth supporting the underlying myth that we’re non-physical beings that go to heaven after death.

Calvinism is a myth that was invented to corrupt such statements, “For whom he did foreknow, he also did predestinate” (Rom 8:29), “According as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world” (Eph 1:4). Its purpose is to cloak the true message of salvation so that something else can be preached in its place. Rather than God predetermining to save a chosen people, it’s now God predestining certain people to be saved. PT removed God’s people from the message, thereby removing the message from people.

It’s taught that those leaving church for various reasons never were saved, “They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us” (1Jo 2:19). But it’s just a myth intended to prevent people from ever leaving. John’s statement is about false teachers going out from the Jerusalem church under the guise of being sent with commandments from the apostles, “that certain which went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keep the law: to whom we gave no such commandment” (Act 15:24).

These are just a few of the many passages of Scripture corrupted from the truth into myths about God, God’s Son, man, and man’s salvation. And these myths are continually reinforced into people through biased and tainted Bible translations, compelling sermons, seminars and workshops, commentaries and study tools, and an endless stream of “Christian” books. The more these myths can be strengthened into people, the more likely they’ll keep their ears turned away from the truth.
